

SOCIETY WOMAN'S DIVORCE FIGHT HOLDS UP $500,000 ESTATE

ACCUSED WIFE DECLARES HUSBAND'S THREAT OF JAIL SILENCED HER DURING TRIAL

When Mrs. Robert L. Macomber, Waterdown society matron, took Wellington C. Nunn, Brookline clubman, into her home at 1:30 a. m., no one knew the action would affect the settlement of a $500,000 estate.

Attorneys for Mrs. George A. Macomber, widow of a wealthy Cambridge businessman, have announced, however, that Mrs. Macomber will not make her will until the court has ruled on the trial of her husband in the small hours of the morning.

George M. Macomber declares in a motion filed in Middlesex Court that she had been to a dinner party with her friend Nunn. It was a hot night and when she arrived at her home she invited Mr. Nunn inside for a drink of ginger ale.

PART SEATED ON COUCH.
Robert L. Macomber says that he and five men found his wife and Nunn sitting on the couch. The matter of the ginger ale has been left to the court.

Macomber sued his wife for a divorce in Middlesex Superior Court last November. He named Nunn as the man who had seduced his wife and said that she had been with him for six months.

In the meantime, Macomber's father died and left his entire fortune estimated at $500,000 to his widow, with the understanding that before the money was paid to her, she should make a will bequeathing it to her four sons, of which Robert L. is one. The amounts given each of the sons was left to the mother.

On April 8 a week before the divorce decree of her husband would have become final, Mrs. Macomber filed a motion asking to set aside her divorce secured by her husband.

At the same time Nunn filed a similar motion.

WIFE FEARED THREATS.
Young Mrs. Macomber in her motion urges that there was nothing improper in her relations with Nunn. She declared that when her husband and five men entered her home and found her and Nunn the husband declared he would send her to Siberia and take their ten-year-old daughter away if she contested a divorce action.

The wife declares she was fearful of these threats and so did not appear when the divorce case was called for trial last November.

Nunn, in his motion, says he only went into the Macomber home for a drink of ginger ale. He says he did not appear at the divorce trial because he understood a reservation was being effected between the couple.

The motions were to have been argued in Middlesex probate court Friday, but Young Mrs. Macomber's attorney said he had to go away for two weeks.

Attorneys for the estate of the late George A. Macomber urged that the divorce suit be set aside. They indicated that the half a million dollars estate had much to do with the motion of Mrs. Macomber and Nunn and they declared that the elder Mrs. Macomber would make no will without receiving no money from her late husband's estate until the divorce case is finally settled.

ESTATE IS TIED UP.
Young Mr. Macomber is president of the Talbot Company of Nashua, N. H. He was married in 1912; his wife's maiden name being Helen Beatrice Evans, a graduate of Wellesley University.

The Macombers were active in the social life of Watertown, where they resided. At the time the original divorce suit was entered by Mr. Macomber the matter was carefully handled up.

Judge Leggett gave Mrs. Macomber's attorneys two weeks' time in which to prepare for argument on the motions to set aside the divorce decree, and in the meantime the estate of the late Macomber will remain undisturbed.

Earthquake in Chili
Santiago, Chile, April 15.—A mild earthquake shock was felt here and in Valparaiso. The tremors caused some alarm but did no serious damage.

GUNMEN FLEE AT VICTIM'S MAD DASH

Cambridge Cobbler Sees Pistol, Vanishes Via Rear Door, Bandits Via Front

It's getting so now that a hood up on, "working hard and trying to get along," can't place any dependence on his victim.

First, a chap in Brighton crashed a chair on the head of a motion man, then a young fellow in Roserville takes a peg at another with a can of salmon.

And now comes Samuel Cohen with an idea all his own. Cohen looked up from his bench in his shoe repair shop at No. 53 Brookline street, Cambridge, and told them he didn't know anybody in the vicinity by the name of Father.

"Stop your machine, so we can talk to you," ordered one of the three. Cohen demurred that he was too busy.

Then one of the three displayed a revolver and told Cohen to hold up his hands. Cohen choked and a pile of soiled and worn old shoes ascended the other side and disappeared through the rear door of the shop.

That wasn't according to the logic of the gunman's game at all and he three bodies men looked at each other in dismay. Then they, too, stampeded. But they went off the front door.

Girl of 19 Stowaway on Battleship for a Month

Betha Heights, Panama Canal Zone, April 16 (U.S.N.S.).—Wearing dungarees and a sailor cap and with all the sailor lines at her tongue's end, almost-year-old Madeline Blair of New York and Bridgeport, Ct., was taken as a stowaway on board the United States battleship Arizona. She will be returned to New York.

Madeline is pretty when she has her regular girl's clothing on. When discovered she had her bobbed hair tucked under her cap and $60 in her clothing.

Madeline said she boarded the Arizona March 12 while the battleship was anchored in the Hudson River. She had obtained a sailor's uniform.

During months she slipped from one deck to another to avoid detection. She said she obtained her food from "band brock" sailors.

BEAT JACK DEMPSEY TO THEATRE CASH BOX

Los Angeles, April 14.—(U.S.N.S.).—Jack Dempsey to the cash box in the Theatre in Rialto Park, Mo., according to Embassy news.

A well brought woman, Mrs. J. J. Dempsey, Dempsey's companion, saw $2,300 due for performance in the Theatre in Rialto Park, Mo., according to Embassy news. The woman said that she represented Dempsey, kept in a month's cash box from the $1,000 a week minimum guaranteed under the contract, and that she had been watching the cashbox through a hole in the wall.

GUNS BLAZE IN KLAN FIGHT AT MARION, ILL.

Warfare Resumed as Home of Grand Cyclops Is Stormed; Troops Asked For

Marion, Ill., April 16 (U.S.N.S.).—Eusey, a Unionist, was shot in the leg today when a mob of gunmen swept down on the home of Sam F. Starnes, exalted cyclops of the Marion Ku Klux Klan, and poured about twenty bullets into the house.

Starnes' house, Starnes has asked for troops to be sent, but it was said here today that the request had not been granted.

Following the arrest last week, by City Judge E. N. Bowen, John Garavito and Dominick, both of the Klan, were charged with the shooting of Starnes. The city asked for troops to be sent, but it was said here today that the request had not been granted.

GOV. COX LOOKS CANDIDACY IS FOR BETTER BUSINESS

Expects Constructive Relief to Follow Cessation of Talk in Washington

Governor Clarence H. Cox, in expressing his views on the business outlook for the rest of 1924, tells the financial editor of the Boston American:

"At the beginning of the year business men were hopeful and looked forward to a general expansion."

"They expected a speedy revision of Federal taxation."

"When Congress failed to give the constructive relief necessary, business men became fearful."

"It now appears that the members of Congress are learning from people at home in an uncertain tone of disapproval."

"I look for a cessation of talk in Washington and constructive relief to business and, with such action, a general expansion of business for the remainder of the year."

Hasty Pudding Actors Widely Feted by Smart Set, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.
MILITARY sound of entente cordiale, the Hasty Pudding Club troops at each of their one or two night "standards," where they are presenting their clever show, "Way's Wins."

Tomorrow evening the Cambridge thespians will entertain Outhwaite's Resemblance group in the ballroom of the Hotel Plaza. Among those giving dinner preceding the performance is Mrs. D. Hester McAlpin, whose son, David H. McAlpin, Jr., a senator at Harvard, is the fiancé of Miss Nina Underwood of Boston.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week the Hasty Pudding group presented their musical offering at Hot Springs, where a re-organized Boston contingent was on hand to applaud the many hits in the show.

Following Monday's performance Mrs. James Cummings Barr of Boston and New York gave a supper-dance for members of the troupe. That afternoon Mrs. Jay Ingalls presided at a tea given in their honor, and yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Matthew L. Akers were hosts at a buffet luncheon.

Among the Boston folk who were present at the Hot Springs performance were Mrs. A. Whelan Webb, Mrs. Valentine Hollingsworth, Mrs. Edward A. Clark and Mrs. Frederick S. Mosher. Of those lending their talent to "Way's Wins" are Morgan Harris, Harry Pratt, John H. Robinson and Lawrence Abbott.

ARRESTHUBMAN AS 'PASSER' OF BAD MONEY

Police Say He Operated in Lawrence for Gang of Counterfeiters

A big counterfeiting plot in which scores of spurious $10 Federal Reserve notes have been passed in Lawrence and vicinity has been discovered by secret service agents and Boston police.

The first arrest in the plot came today when Luigi Lupo, twenty-eight, was arrested at his home at No. 13 Pelham street, Back Bay, on the charge of passing a number of the worthless bills on Lawrence business men.

Lupo was arrested in his bedroom by John J. McGrath, a secret service agent, and Special Officer John Lawrence of the Boston police force.

A careful search of the quarters occupied by Lupo failed to bring any of the spurious money to light and no counterfeiting paraphernalia was uncovered. The officers, however, declare that they have been looking for Lupo for some days and that other arrests will follow.

Lupo is regarded by the Secret Service men as simply a "passer." According to the authorities, he is not the counterfeiter himself but the man who makes it and his job is to put the money into circulation, receiving good bills in exchange.

Recently Lawrence and other officers in the Merrimack valley were flooded with counterfeit money and a large number of Federal agents have been working on the case. Lupo was taken to the United States marshal's office and held pending a preliminary hearing.

George A. Packard Has Birthday; Send a Card

For more than thirty years the name of George Arthur Packard, mining engineer and metallurgist, has been well known in the mining fields of the United States, particularly in those producing precious and base metals.

Mr. Packard was born in Wakefield on April 17, 1859, and graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1880. Since 1909 he has maintained office in Boston.

Tomorrow is his birthday. Send a letter or card of congratulation to his office at No. 50 Congress street.

SUDDEN DELUGE OF COMPLAINTS ON MASHERS

Police Start Cleanup of Century Who Annoy Women on Streets and in Theatres

Aroused by a sudden deluge of complaints, the police opened a drive today against masher in the streets or in the theatres.

At least one movie house today threw on its screen a request that women notify the house special policeman immediately in the event that they are annoyed.

Special Officers John Brennan and Robert Leach of the City Hall station have been detailed to get rid of mashers.

MRS. IRA NELSON MORRIS

played hostess at rather a large house party held over the weekend at "Englewood," as the Morris estate at Manchester-by-the-Sea is known.

Present among the guests were Sir Elton Howard, British Ambassador, who seems so well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Morris while the former United States Minister to Sweden and Sir Elton represented his government at Stockholm.

Miss Rosamond Blanchard and Miss Harriet Boyden, both debutantes of the past Winter, had quite a "string" of times at the sale held yesterday at Mrs. Blanchard's home.

At least, they stirred up some very delicious fudge, which was sold at the sale. The latter was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. William and Mrs. E. Sohner Woolf for the benefit of the James March Jackson League, Inc.

DESTROYERS TO INDICTMENT OF AID HUNT FOR LOST FLIER 'WHEELER WAS 'JUSTIFIED'

Major Martin, Round-World
Aviator, Believed Stranded on Alaskan Coast

Washington, April 16.—Lieutenant Blaisdell, advanced officer for the world fliers, advised the War Department of Major Martin's forced landing in Alaska Bay or Portage Bay. A message from Lieutenant Smith, one of the pilots, said Major Martin was believed to have landed in Alaska Bay or to have turned into Portage Bay.

Attorney-General Stone Finds
Action of Grand Jury in Montana Was Proper

Washington, April 16.—The evidence upon which a Federal Grand Jury at Great Falls, Mont., returned an indictment against Senator Burton K. Wheeler has been examined by Attorney-General Harlan D. Stone and in his opinion the action of the Grand Jury was justified.

Senator Wheeler.

"Nelson was leading Martin, nearly out of sight, most of the time," Lieutenant Smith said. "Did not realize he was down until too late to return. Have requested two destroyers at Seaward to make search." "Flight left Seaward at 10:45. Three planes landed here in good condition at 4:30. Will send plane to search for Martin tomorrow if necessary."

FAMOUS KEY IN PASSION PLAY DEAD

The first and news to mark the appearance of the phenomenon of Anton Lang, who came today when Mrs. Anton Lang, wife of Anton Lang, the Christus, received a letter from her Bavarian home informing her of the death of the little donkey which was used by Lang in the entry of Christ into Jerusalem. The animal died of a broken heart.

ENGLAND WANTS POLITE HOLDUP DISARMAMENT MEN RETURN CONFERENCE WATCH

Premier Says He Would Welcome Invitation to Take Up Whole Question

London, April 16 (A.P.).—Premier MacDonald, responding today to a speech in the House of Commons by Major-General J. E. B. Seeley, who advocated that the Premier call an international conference for all disarmament, declared he would welcome an invitation by any other power to take up the whole question of armaments.

The Premier said: "I have at the back of my mind the intention that as soon as we have cleared away some of the present difficulties in Europe we must face quite seriously this question of armaments, not only in the air but all other forms of armaments."

He added that if he felt there was the least chance of receiving a welcome should he move such an assembly he was prepared to do it. This statement evoked cheers from the House.

Brown of Yale to Speak

Dean Charles H. Brown of Yale University will address the Chamber of Commerce at the tenth anniversary service here at Cooper's Plaza tomorrow. "Business as a Profession" will be his subject.

VARIOUS THINGS have been interfering with American stock market prices. And while these prices are not important in themselves—only the values represented being important—disturbances in the stock market affect business men by discouraging investment and enterprise.

ONE TROUBLE with the stock market is the volume announcement of one very able, young gambler to the effect that stocks were sure to go down. This meant, of course, that he had sold a long line of stocks for himself, and that the bigger men for whom he worked were also "short" and determined to put stocks down.

Mainly thinking it easier to run than to fight let their stocks go. That helped the drop. Then there is always the pouring of hundreds of millions into securities that pay no income tax, and that, of course, injures prices of legitimate securities from which income is taxed to maintain the government.

AMERICANS HAVE one billion and a quarter invested in Cuba. In addition to owning one hundred and ten millions of Cuban government bonds, Canada also has large investments in Cuba. These are good, sound investments. Cubans are intelligent and industrious; their standard of living rises steadily; their climate, almost as big as Pennsylvania, is one of the richest spots on all the earth, rich in the fertile soil, its iron, copper and other metals.

If you have money to invest, try Cuba. Some of the ablest American financiers are investigating heavily there. You might be the Cuban-American Stinson, but don't go without money.

THE LEARNED M. G. Kyle, on behalf of the Xenia Theological Seminary of Missouri, has carefully and scientifically explored that part of Palestine around the lower Dead Sea and announced discovery of the location of Sodom and Gomorrah. Some of the graves there date back to Abraham. The discovery should fully confirm the Biblical story of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, says Mr. Kyle.

WHAT IS most interesting to those anxious to believe, and troubled by doubt, it would be doubly interesting if it should prove, also, scientifically, the miracle of Lot's wife changed into a pillar of salt, while looking back over her shoulder, when she shouldn't have done it.

UNTIL recently there were travellers ready to swear that they had seen the statue of salt, a wonderful likeness. But the statue hasn't been seen recently—due perhaps to the action of the rain, which melts salt, and let it stand almost four thousand years ago.

FIRST it's the jaw bone of the missing link. You're told the gorilla is your cousin. Then comes proof of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you're comforted, and so is the gorilla.

Believe Dawes Plan Provides Much Less From Germany Than Expected

Paris, April 16 (A.P.)—Now that the first impressions of the reparations experts' reports have passed, the French people are beginning to figure what this country may expect to receive under the plan outlined by Brigadier-General Charles G. Dawes and his associates.

Some critics to find that a settlement on the basis of the plan would give France total payments at present values of less than 21,000,000,000 gold marks.

France, under the London schedule of payments, would receive 24,000,000,000 gold marks on the first two series of bonds, with a continuing interest in the balance of 30,000,000,000 marks.

Formerly France in a campaign speech took pains to recall that the experts have estimated Germany's capacity to pay for only a few years to come and have not dimmed the amount she would be required to pay eventually.

France and the new federal organ, Quinquennial, point out that, while this is so, the fact remains that machinery for collection of reparations is provided for by the plan only during a period that, under the schedule of payments fixed by the experts would yield about 40,000,000,000 marks. This being the total Germany was expected to pay, the cost of occupying the Rhineland must be deducted from it, an amount which would amount to considerably less than 20,000,000,000 marks if Germany paid all that the experts demanded, with no certainty that the experts would be able to do so.

FIGHT IN SENATE OVER CASH BONUS

Three-Cornered Struggle on the Bill, as Reported, Is Expected Today

Washington, April 16.—A three-cornered fight in the Senate over the soldier bonus bill was certain to day, with hostilities scheduled to open before the end of the week, when consideration of the measure is begun on the floor.

Most of the Democrats are expected to support the minority report prepared by the Democratic members of the Finance Committee, asking incorporation in the bill of an option for full cash payment. A small bloc of "latter enders" against the bonus also has made itself known, headed by Senator Smoot, chairman of the Finance Committee, and Senator King of Utah, a Democratic member of the committee.

Republican advocates of a soldier bonus bill generally are prepared to support the measure reported to the Senate yesterday by Senator Curtis of Kansas City, a Republican member of the committee. It provides for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $10 in adjusted service pension and twenty-year endorsement life insurance policies to others.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON BUSINESS AS A PROFESSION

By DR. FRANK CRANE

RATHER a remarkable pamphlet has been issued by Harvard University. It is entitled "Business as a Profession."

It is remarkable in that it is a recognition, by a university that for long has been concerned to the "learned professions," of the fact that business, or working for money, is entitled to rank with any other human occupation in dignity and importance.

Time was, and that time is not so far past, that only those would be profited by education or welcomed to educational institutions, who had in mind to become gentlemen (by which was understood to be an idler living on dead men's money and devoting his life simply to play) a physician, a lawyer, a clergyman, a school teacher, or some variety of book worm.

The nineteenth century was not only the age of science but also the age when the world began to realize that the value of science and of all learning consisted in its use to humanity.

Business simply means using science for the service of Mankind.

The two dominating nations of the world, the British Empire and the United States, are business nations. It was not the lust of conquest, it was the desire to extend trade, that has made the British Empire.

The rapid development of the United States has been due to men whose motive was to apply the theories of science and the discoveries of inventors to the building of railroads, the opening of mines, the harnessing of waters, and commercial progress of the city and the conversion of raw material into finished products.

It is the practical application of the spirit of democracy for democracy means the welfare of the whole people.

The great fortunes of these days have not been founded on robber raids, filibustering expeditions nor military conquests. Men have become millionaires in meat packing, oil, steel, clothing, transportation and similar activities for the general wellbeing of the people.

If the university is to justify itself in the future it must train men for work and not for play; it must equip men for work and not equip them in the art of getting along without work.

It must recognize that the only excuse for talent, brains and genius, is the superior service that can be rendered to mankind. For the superior man is tolerable only when he lives for his fellows and not when he lives on them.

In any right system of education, business, which is nothing but the honest service of man, the clothing, the feeding, sheltering, transporting and beautifying of the life of the multitude, should rank as one of the worthiest of professions.

$1,500,000 WAS SPENT on a motion picture that you might live for two hours in old France at the time of Cardinal Richelieu—and see the vivid, the authentic unfolding of

- the magnificent splendor of the court of Louis XIII.
- the thrilling intrigues, and fascinating romances of that period.
- the enchanting beauty of scene after scene of the great empire.
- the enthralling grandeur of the palaces of the King and Cardinal.

Robert B. Mantell, John Charles Thomas, Alma Rubens and Otto Kruger, George Nash, Rose Coghlan, Genevieve Hamper, Ian MacLaren, Charles Judels, Mary MacLaren, William H. Powell, Sydney Herbert and 2,000 others.

LAST FIVE DAYS!!

You May Take the Boston Critics' Word for It. This Is a Great Picture, a Feast for the Eye and a Treat to the Mind. It's Solid Entertainment from Beginning to End.

Prunella Hall in the BOSTON POST:

Strikingly beautiful . . . Cast reads like a portion of the Blue Book of the stage and screen . . . Production shows that a vast sum of money must have been expended in its making.

Eleanor Very in the BOSTON TRAVELER:

The backgrounds are notable . . . Joseph Urban's settings are rich, even magnificent . . . The outdoor settings are beautiful, and artistically photographed.

Margaret Harris in the BOSTON TELEGRAM:

So carefully and beautifully transplanted to the screen that it may be readily called one of the industry's masterpieces.

BOSTON GLOBE:

BOSTON TRANSCRIPT:

Supplies a solid evening's enjoyment.
